No middlemen. Just freight.

Direct connections between shippers and carriers. Low fees. Zero brokers. Full control. Wanload is a direct freight marketplace built from firsthand experience on the road. We started this company because too many drivers and small carriers were watching money disappear before it ever reached their pockets — middlemen taking 15–40% of a rate they didn't work for. Wanload changes that. One platform. Direct connections. One flat fee. No one skimming off the top.

About wanload.

Wanload was built by a trucker who spent years on the road watching money disappear before it ever reached his pocket. We built a platform where drivers and shippers connect directly — where the people doing the hauling keep more of what they earn. No middlemen. No hidden percentages. No backroom deals. Just freight, done right.
